

2018-19 Concert Schedule

Oct 28 Leila Percy & Friends: Celebrate Songs of the Great American Songbook. Join Leila and Gerry Wright with their friends for a fun filled concert. This will be our 1st concert with signing for the hearing impaired.

Nov. 18 (snow date: Dec. 2) George Lopez, classical pianist. 1 pm pre-concert talk. Hailed by LA Times for his "...musical perspective, continuity and a kaleidoscopic colors". Advocate of music education. Popular lecturer on the arts.

Dec. 16 (snow date: Dec. 23) ). A Don Campbell Christmas...Some country - lots of holiday favorites. He became a C@J favorite even before his band won a nationwide competition and moved up to Nashville and Grand Ole Opry.

Jan. 13 (snow date: Jan 27) Choro Louco, Brazilian choro band from Portland. Nicole Rabata, flute; Carl Dimow, flute, bass flute, guitar; David Newsam, 7 string guitar; and Eric LaPerna, bandeira; present the unique rhythms and harmonies of Brazil's Choro music.

Feb. 10 (snow date: Feb. 24) The Boneheads, a bunch of guys from Maine with a goofy name. Their music has been described as "danceable, rootsy, folk, rock, blues, country, Cajun, and All-American." Count on some originals by their leader Steve Jones as well.

Mar. 10 (snow date: Mar. 24) Sandy River Ramblers, known for its vocal harmonies, and virtuoso instrumental playing. Songs like "Slow Down (You'll Hit a Moose)," "Boots From L. L. Bean," and "Bear in the Barn" give this band a unique regional flavor.

Apr. 7 Castlebay: Traditional Irish Music. Fred Gosbee and Julia Lane mix vocals, Celtic harp, guitar, and fiddle with legend, lore & history. Their programs always have a Maine theme, TBA.

May 19 Masanobu Ikemiya. Classical & ragtime pianist. Light-hearted ragtime rhythms, the classics, sometimes videos of places and projects that inspire him. Peace activist, environmental steward, and C@J favorite.
